LONDON, August 4.

SEVERAL magnificent suits of clothes are now making up for her Royal Highness Princess Louisa, which are to be entirely of British manufacture; and it is now said to be certain that her approaching nuptials with the Prince of Orange will be celebrated in London.

We hear that the Isle of Man will have the liberty to send four Members to Parliament, and the Bishop of the island to have a seat in the House of Peers; when, at the same time, the laws and customs will be the same as in England, and trade will be greatly encouraged, by settling two manufactories there, one at Douglas, and the other at Peel town, next session of Parliament.

August 5. Thursday died at his house, near Hampstead, the Reverend Mr. Southcoat, remarkable for having a leg of mutton every night for his supper during a course of 40 years, smoking ten pipes as constantly, and drinking three bottles of port.

It is certain that a publican at the west end of the town, famous for the pomposity of his sign, which was a superb one of the late Great Commoner, was requested a few days since, by a majority of his customers, to change it. He seemed very unwilling to comply, alleging the great expense it had cost him; but reflecting that his trade would be more profitable than his ambition, he took the following expedient: Yesterday morning, at break of day, he procured the assistance of a smith and painter, had the sign turned topsyturvy, and this label painted under the head, A TRIP UP TO ALL SCOUNDRELS, which whim has given general satisfaction.

August 9. Inoculation for the smallpox has become so common, and withal so successful, by the practitioners in Essex, that the most timorous venture to undergo the operation. An extraordinary instance of the truth of this will appear in the following article: Mr. Bright of Maldon, and brother to the late corpulent Mr. Bright, being greatly terrified of having the smallpox, from his bulk, resolved, on seeing so great a number recover from that disorder, to undergo the operation; and accordingly, after the usual preparation, was inoculated, and last week happily recovered, with only the loss of as much flesh, when he came to put on his usual waistcoat, as buttoned up a middle sized man in it with him; however, he is in full spirits, and likely to continue so.

One day last week a wheat field, consisting of 17 acres, belonging to farmer King, of Kingiton in Surry, was observed on strict examination to have no grains of corn in the ears, on which it was cut down for straw. It has been shown at Kingiton and other places, and is esteemed a great phenomenon of nature.

We hear that some new American Governors will be appointed, as soon as the new Ministry is finally settled.

August 12. Some letters from Leghorn mention that advice was received there of a large body of Circassians, whose country is subject to the Grand Signior, having joined the forces of Prince Heraclius of Georgia.

They write from Bristol that some bags of wild cotton had just been imported there from Pensacola, which was judged nothing inferior to the best Jamaica.

It is reported that our marine forces will soon be augmented, and put under some new regulations.

August 16. The general toast in the city now is, "May the Earl of Chatham retain the integrity of Mr. Pitt."

It is said that an authentic account was brought last night from Paris of the French Ministry being now actually deliberating on an edict permissive of the full enjoyment of religious liberty as in England, with a view that the Hugonots may no longer be driven to the painful alternative of either deserting their own country or of residing within it in a constant state of hypocrisy.

They write from Pensacola that they have begun to plant rice, tobacco, and even the sugar cane, with great prospect of success, in different parts of the province; and were in hopes of producing as good jalap, bees wax, and indigo, as were now exported from La Vera Cruz.

August 21. We hear that his Royal Highness the Duke of York proposes to make the tour of Scotland before his return from York races, and that the Marquis of Granby will accompany his Royal Highness.

Yesterday the Prince of Nassau, who lately arrived from Holland, was introduced to his Majesty at St. James's, and was graciously received.

Yesterday the levee at St. James's was very numerous; a Privy Council was afterwards held, at which the Earl of Chatham assisted.

Sir Edward Hawke, Knight of the Bath, will shortly sail to the coast of Holland in the Triumph, a new 74 gun ship, Capt. Thompson, in order to bring over his Serene Highness the Prince of Orange. Sir Edward will hoist a white flag on the main top mast head.

It is said a late great Commoner has already given his opinion that all ministerial influence at next general election ought to be laid aside, and to allow the electors to choose for themselves, as he had often found from experience that they were the most rational judges of the representatives.

Notwithstanding the precipitate resolutions of the colonies to erect a statue of the late Mr. Pitt in every one of them, several Gentlemen, well acquainted with the Americans, are now making bets in town, of 100 guineas to 20, that Lord Chatham's statue will not be erected on that continent; and yesterday a bet was made at Arthur's, of two hundred guineas to twenty.

Last week died, at his seat in the county of Tipperary, Col. Thomas Winsloe, aged 146 years; he was a Captain in the reign of Charles I. and came with Oliver Cromwell a Lieutenant Colonel into Ireland.

August 25. An embarkation of French troops, to the number of nine battalions, was preparing at Marseilles for the island of Corsica, when the last letters came from thence.

The recruits now raising in the electorate of Hanover, intended for the British American colonies, it is said, are to be completed to 10,000 men.

An order is issued that drums are no more to be used by the regiments of horse in this kingdom, but an additional number of trumpets are to be provided in their stead.

We are credibly informed that a positive demand has been made for paying the Manila ransom, pursuant to the articles of capitulation at the reduction of that place.

The whole village of Guadaloupe, near the Havannah, has been demolished, in order to make room for a covered way quite from the city to Antonio hill; and the fortrefs of the Cavannas has been augmented with several half-moons, battions, and other works bomb proof.

Extract of a letter from Calcutta, Jan. 24.

"I will now endeavour to give you some of the occurrences of Bengal. Lord Clive has done great things, and caused great revolutions; the salt trade you will be informed of before these ships arrive; he has made peace here with Sujah Dowlah, which was celebrated since our arrival, all the French and Dutch being invited. On the 14th of December 1765 was a battle with a buffalo and a tiger, or rather indeed six buffaloes killing two tigers; for the latter is so cowardly an animal that it will not face any thing, and only attacks by surprise. After this two elephants fought two camels, and several rams; at night there was a play; the next day a grand dinner, a supper, and fireworks, much more elegant than any I ever beheld in England; and the whole concluded with a ball.

"We hear the military are under some uneasiness, by being reduced their batta, or extra pay; as is the civil, by four Gentlemen from Madras being appointed to supersede them. At present there is no mention of Lord Clive's going home."

DUBLIN, August 19.

The following is a part of a letter from a Gentleman in the country, to his friend in town.

"As to publick affairs, they give me little concern; but whether being 30 miles from town removes me so far from popular prejudices, or confirms me in my own, I leave to you. I cannot see why Lord C—m should be this moment a worse man than Mr. P—tt, nor can I find more similitude between Lord C—m and Lord B—h than Fluellin in Henry the 5th finds between Macedon and Monmouth; There is a river in Macedon, and there is a river in Monmouth. I know not much of Lord B—h's history; I know he was an angry opponent when a Commoner, and nobody when a Peer; but I never heard that he was ever a great Minister, that he had directed a war with extraordinary talents and success, or rectified the blunders of an ignorant Ministry in peace, or that he accepted the honours of a Crown as the reward of faithful service, when infirmity and years rendered him incapable of the fatigue of business in the Lower House. If Lord C—m was still Mr. P—tt, he could not, in the ordinary course of nature, retain his vigour longer than 5 or 6 years; rich fruits decay the soonest. I confess I think it more discreet to nod upon a woolpack than exhibit the decay of nature in the same scene where its strength and vigour were once so conspicuous.

"A man cannot mix with any company but some one will assert we must have a war. Though we are assured our enemies were heartily tired of the last, yet no sooner was peace proclaimed but we were alarmed with their power, and that we should be involved in immediate trouble. This must be contrary to all probability. Whatever may be their inclination, we must think it unfeitable to their condition. Their finances were exhausted; and whatever resources they might have, yet they could not be so ample as to put their state in a plight to oppose the power of Great Britain so suddenly as we were made to believe; I speak of the French. A great recruit was necessary of ships, and magazines of all sorts to equip them, which will take up some time to procure before they can face us. Besides, France is disturbed internally; its Parliaments begin to strut, and make a show of liberty. In many instances they have opposed the power of the King; and whilst he talks of his commands and his will, they as pertinently talk of the laws, and are very loth to submit to commands. Spain is equally convulsed within, and so far from being in a state to vex us would gladly be quiet herself."

EDINBURGH, August 19.

A private letter from London, dated the 14th inst. informs us: "The political conversation is entirely engrossed for and against Lord Chatham. His friends allege that his accepting a pension was the most prudent step he could have taken, and that time will evince the advantage and good consequences of it; while others affirm that money and titles will make him do any thing, and that, as it was his own interest he had always in view, his title should have been Earl of STRATAGEM. Among the many political prints published, there is a curious letter from the Devil to Lord Chatham, and another has his Lordship with Lord B—h on his back, the former puffing, blowing, and exclaiming, This is more than I am able to bear."

"Yesterday at Court the Earl of Chatham had several petitions put into his hands, which more properly belonged to the Marquis of Granby's department; many of the expectants appear to be Lord C—m's friends, and all independent people seem to be his opponents."

Extract of a letter from London, dated August 18.

"It is confidently affirmed that Lord Adam Gordon is appointed Governor of Jamaica, and that the Board of Admiralty will soon be filled up. The report of a Lord High Admiral being to be appointed seems now to lose credit.

"It is reported that Lord L—d was desired to resign, which he refused; upon which a new created Earl waited upon him, to solicit his resignation, which he still refused. "Pray, my Lord, what is it but a bit of parchment?" And "Pray, says the other, what is the Earl of C—m but a piece of parchment? Am I not as fit to be C—m G—m now as I was nine years ago, when appointed by your interest?"

Intelligence Extraordinary.

This day is sold, for the benefit of his Majesty's subjects, the only true Court Elixir, or Grand Specifick, for the cure of the gout. To be had of the noted High German doctor, Baron Van Pynsent, at his seat near Chatham.

Also prepared by the same hand, the Pilula Aurata, or Right Royal Bolus, double gilt, being an admirable remedy for all persons afflicted with a volubility of tongue, and of foreign use long since in curing that feverish disorder of the mind called patriotism.

N. B. Both these remedies are marked with the Doctor's own Privy Seal, and all others who pretend to sell them must be counterfeiters.

KINGSTON (in Jamaica) Sept. 13.

The high wind which happened on Friday and Saturday, the 15th and 16th of August, and did considerable damage to the shipping of this island, was not so terrible in its consequences as at Dominica and Martinico, as it did not happen here until two days after, in which time the wind had greatly abated of its fury.

NEW YORK, October 20.

The Representatives for the town of Boston are directed by the inhabitants to use their influence, when the General Assembly meets, that the sufferers on the 26th of August 1765 have all their damages made good.

Extract of a letter from London, August 12.

"By the papers you will find Mr. Pitt, now Earl of Chatham, has been placed at the head of affairs, and has the nomination of most of the great officers of State. Our affairs will take a happy turn, it is hoped; but as he has not been able to put every person into a post that thinks himself qualified for it, I am afraid the spirit of opposition will take rise, and endeavour to clog the wheels of government, not so much on account of government itself, as to prevent the Earl of Chatham shining forth with that lustre which his superiour talents promise. Were the good of the community the only object of their pursuits, nothing I think could stand before them; but where places, high honours, and power, with all their attendants, seem to be their objects, the very name of patriot seems only to be a mere stalking horse, behind which they shelter themselves in the pursuit of their game."

October 23. On Tuesday night, between 10 and 12 o'clock, a number of soldiers with bayonets went to several houses in the city, ~~where they were very noisy and abusive~~, to the great disturbance and terror of the inhabitants. This was occasioned, it is said, by ill treatment, which some of the soldiers had received the night before, at some of those infamous houses which, to the great scandal of our wholesome laws, are suffered to exist, as so many receptacles for loose and disorderly people.

The boundary line between the provinces of New York and Quebec (the name now given to all Canada) is fixed at latitude 45 deg. which crosses Lake Champlain, about two and a half miles north of Windmill Point, and is distinguished by openings made on each side of the lake, where several trees are girdled, and square posts set up, marked with the letters Y and Q pointing to the respective governments. The opening on the west side of the lake is at a low remarkable point of land, which was then, by the Gentlemen present, named Moore's Point, in respect to his Excellency Sir Henry Moore, our Governor. His Excellency, and General Carleton, Lieutenant Governor of Quebec, were each attended by several Gentlemen from their respective governments.

While his Excellency was at Windmill Point, several Gentlemen from Quebec took the opportunity to wait on him, and acquaint him with their claims, by grants from the French King, of all the lands in those parts, on both sides the lake, as far fourth as Crown Point, or further. We are informed they very much insisted upon their right from these grants, and that his Excellency was pleased to acquaint them that the determination would be left to the King and Council. Should the claims of these encroachers be admitted, it is hardly to be doubted but they may produce grants for all the lands to the north of fort Edward.

October 27. Last Monday morning, about 2 o'clock, we had very hard thunder and lightning here; the lightning struck a barrack at Frog's Point, the property of Mr. John Smith of this place, which contained about 15 tons of salt hay, and consumed the whole in less than half an hour.

PHILADELPHIA, October 23.

By Capt. Hampton, from Virginia, we learn that Captain Parker, in a sloop from Metamkin, in Virginia, for this port, ran ashore between Sinepuxent and Chincoteague, about 14 days ago, where the vessel was lost, and three passengers drowned.

October 30. Sunday last arrived here Capt. Webber, in 12 days from Bermuda, who informs us that the 4th instant a sloop, bottom upwards, drove ashore on the west end of that island, where the soon broke off her mast, which was found by the people, who went to her, floating with the sails and rigging along-side of her; the boats towed her into Somerset harbour. On examination they found her to be an entire new sloop, New England built, 52 feet keel, 21 feet beam; her cargo was pitch, tar, lumber, soap, and myrtle wax candles in boxes, branded Daniel Langdon. About the same time a schooner of 70 or 80 tons burthen drove ashore on the east end of Bermuda, bottom upwards; several boats went to her in the evening, but could discover nothing, and before morning she drifted off to sea again; many shingles, her hatches, and companion, were picked up along shore. The 11th instant, in the night, a large French ship, bound from Cape Francois for Old France, loaded with coffee and indigo, ran upon the rocks off the west end of Bermuda, three leagues from the shore, with all her sails standing; as soon as they handed her sails, she drifted off into ten fathom water, where she sunk. The people all took to their boat, and got safe on the island.

WILLIAMSBURG, November 13.

To the Hon. FRANCIS FAUQUIER, Esq;
his Majesty's Lieutenant Governour, and Commander in Chief of the Colony and Dominion of Virginia:

The Humble Address of the COUNCIL.

S I R,
WE his Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Council of Virginia, now met in General Assembly, beg leave to return your Honour our unfeigned thanks for your kind speech at the opening of this session. That zeal for his Majesty's service which you have steadily and uniformly shown, that care and concern which you so feelingly express for the honour of this country, we acknowledge with the warmest gratitude; and we never shall be wanting, on our part, to give your Honour the most convincing evidence of our sincere regard. The late disturbance upon this continent, of so alarming and dangerous a tendency, was stopped in its progress by the prudence of his Majesty's conduct, and the wisdom of his Councils; which has secured, and fixed, the happiness of America upon the true basis of public liberty: An event that will be kept in perpetual remembrance. The grievances of America have not only been redressed, but their trade has been encouraged; and the opening and establishing free ports in the islands of Jamaica and Dominica cannot fail of producing consequences that must be greatly beneficial to the commercial interests of Great Britain, and all her colonies. This recent instance of his Majesty's paternal goodness we shall acknowledge with all thankfulness, duty, and gratitude; and do every thing in our power to convince the world of our firm and unalterable attachment to the prosperity of Great Britain, which we shall always consider as inseparably connected with the welfare of this colony.

To which his HONOUR was pleased to return the following ANSWER:

GENTLEMEN of the COUNCIL,
THE just sense you entertain of his Majesty's paternal goodness fills me with pleasure, and I make not the least doubt but that it will be productive of the most salutary effects to this colony and to Great Britain, whose interests, as you very justly observe, must for ever be inseparable.
The expressions of loyalty to your King, of attachment to your Mother Country, and of regard and affection to me, all demand a return of my warmest thanks, which I give you with the greatest sincerity and cordiality.

On Wednesday last it was determined in the Hon. the House of Burgesses, by a great majority, that the offices of Speaker and Treasurer shall no more be united in one person; and on Friday the 21st instant the election of a Treasurer comes on, or whether the Treasury shall be put in commission.

The Randolph, Capt. Price, from Bristol, and the Mally, Capt. Bennet, from Glasgow, are arrived in James river.

WILLIAMSBURG, November 12, 1766.

STOLEN from Newcastle, in Hanover county, about 6 weeks ago, two dark bay plow horses, one of them is large, has been foundered, marked on the near buttock with a star, and a bushy tail. The small horse has the letter H on his near buttock, and no white about him. They both had been much worked, were poor when taken away, and supposed to be stolen by a tall black fellow with remarkable white teeth, now the property of Col. Braxton of King William, who was lately taken up, and put into the constable's hands to be carried to his master, by Col. Cary of Hampton, and the horses are probably thereabouts. Whoever takes up the Negro, or horses, and secures them, shall be handsomely rewarded for the Negro by Col. Braxton, and the horses by JOHN SYME.

THE first day of January next is appointed for the drawing of PETER WARREN's lottery. In the mean time tickets may be had of the managers, of many other Gentlemen in different parts of the country, and at each Printing Office in Williamsburg. Those who have subscribed for tickets are particularly desired to apply for the same, as the drawing will certainly be on the day above mentioned, unless their delay should protract it. But inasmuch as this scheme (which may be seen wherever the tickets are to be had) is at least on as equitable terms as any heretofore published, and as most of the tickets are already engaged, it is not doubted but the whole will be complete by the said time.

Taken up, in Southampton, a black horse, about 12 years old, about 14 hands high, with a hanging mane and twitch tail, some white hairs between his shoulders, and on the outside of his near shoulder, appears to be a natural pacer, and branded on the near buttock — 3.

JOHN PERSON.
